

Prepare for the Assessment

To prepare for the objective assessment, see if you can answer "yes" to the following questions:

- Can I determine where the sources of global-level threats to data access exist in information technology?
- Can I determine where sources of data accuracy threats exist?
- Can I determine where the sources of major global-data-level threats exist?
- Can I identify professional codes of ethics relevant to IT professionals?

Move Ahead When Ready

If you answered "yes" to all the Prepare for the Assessment questions, begin this section by taking the section assessment. If you do well and are confident, take the pre-assessment. Use your results, or results from a prior pre-assessment attempt, to help gauge your readiness to take the objective assessment. If you plan to move ahead, discuss it with your instructor.
