

Section Introduction

Is data privacy a right of the end user? Users expect that privacy, and sometimes even anonymity, is a given with their technology, software, and social media usage. Users need to read the fine print to ensure they are not giving permission for their data to be misused. Oftentimes, despite existing regulations, tech companies may still be able to find legal loopholes that allow them to encroach on the privacy of their consumers.

In this section, one competency is covered across three modules. This section of the course contains Modules 5, 6, and 7, as follows:

- Module 5: Privacy
- Module 6: Freedom of Expression
- Module 7: Intellectual Property
